Elect Folkers Police Judge On Write-In

A write-in campaign for police magistrate in the village of Frankfort Tuesday brought victory to Herbert Folkers, an attorney, and defeat to John C. Knight, who has held the office for 24 years.

Knight, whose name was the only one on the ballot for police magistrate, received 77 votes. Folkers received 115 votes. His total would have been 165 but on 50 ballots the writers failed to mark a cross in the square preceding his name.

There was no opposition to the other candidates on the ticket. George C. Sangmeister was re-elected mayor with a total of 223 votes. Mr. Sangmeister has served 24 years as mayor and before that served as a village trustee for a couple of terms.

Start Work on Shelter House In Picnic Area

A Frankfort firm of building contractors, Tewes and Deporto, have begun work on a shelter house in Van Horne woods, which is a part of the Will county forest preserve district.

Their bid of $2,300 was low and they began work last Thursday. The shelter house is 28 by 28 feet in size and is being built on reinforced concrete foundations. The front and back will be open but the ends, where the fireplaces are located, will be enclosed with concrete blocks. The floor will be of cement.

It will be the same as the shelter house at Raccoon Grove, Monaca.

As the name implies the structure will give picnic parties shelter from wind or rain. The roof will have an overhang of three feet both front and back. The house will be located near the Mokena entrance to the tract, off Wolf road.

John Jevitz, superintendent of the forest preserve district, delivered a large round table at Van Horne's wood Tuesday that will accommodate at least 20 persons. He also plans to install a rectangular table, with a roof.

Similar improvements are being made thruout the district. Jevitz has a large acquaintance and as a result has been able to acquire quite a number of things from industrial plants and business houses for the district, either at nominal costs or as gifts.

Joseph Zalar, an assistant supervisor from Joliet, is president of the forest preserve board which is made up of the members of the county board. Supervisors William Kampe, of Frankfort, and John Frances are the members from this area.

Card of Thanks

To all my neighbors and friends I want to say Thank You for the many cards, gifts and flowers sent to me while I was in the hospital and since I have returned home.

MRS. NICK HEIMAN, Mokena

I appreciate all the cards sent to me while I was in the hospital by all relatives and friends. Thank you all.

JOHN KIMMEL, Tinley Park

I want to thank all friends, neighbors and relatives who were so thoughtful of me while I was in the hospital to send me cards, flowers and gifts, and for their visits, and also since I have returned home.

HAROLD SPIESS, Mokena

Praise be to the citizens who exercised their voting rights and saw fit to vote "Yes" for a high school in Tinley. There was an honest difference of opinion on the site, but a high school any place in Tinley is better than no high school, which is what a "No" vote amounted to.

Having lived in Tinley my entire life, I know of what I speak. A very heartfelt thanks is also extended to the citizens of Oak Forest, Markham, Midlothian, Posen, Robbins and unincorporated areas for seeing the necessity of a high school in Tinley Park. Our next step is a junior college in Bremen Township.

3 Car Crashes In Area Take 2 Lives, Injure 6

Two persons are dead and six others injured as a result of three automobile accidents in the area since Saturday.

A Chicago Heights man was killed in a 2-car crash just south of Tinley Park, 183rd and Oak Park ave., late Saturday after and a Chicagoan met his death in a roll-over on U. S. 30, a mile west of U. S. 45, Monday night about 11:30.

A crash involving three cars took place Monday afternoon around 1 o'clock at the intersection of U. S. 45 and 191st street, also known as Mokena road. No one was killed in this collision but four persons were injured, one of whom is hospitalized.

The persons killed were, William Willner, 65, of Chicago Heights, and Stephen F. Pierce, 24, of 6342 S. Clarmont ave., Chicago. Both victims were alone in their cars.

Hasemeyer, who covered the accident on Route 30 Monday night, reported that apparently Pierce lost control of his car and after it had gone off the pavement on the north side of the highway, it spun back across the road into a ditch on the south side, bounced high in the air and then rolled over several times. Pierce was taken to Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, in the Gerald Dames and Sons ambulance and pronounced dead on arrival. Coroner Willard Blood has not set a date for the inquest.

A witness said that he was traveling east at 70 miles an hour and that Pierce passed him as if he were standing still. The witness, who was familiar with the road, made a mental wager that the speeding car would never make the curve where the new section of Route 30 splits away from the old road. There is a barricade to block off the old road.

Pierce apparently was almost on the barricade when he realized the situation and tried to pull out. He succeeded in missing the barricade but went off the shoulder on the north side and skidded along for several hundred feet before shooting across the highway and into a ditch on the south side. The car, a witness said, bounced high when it hit the ditch and Pierce, the lone occupant, was hurled out, landing head down in the mud. The windshield of Pierce's car was found driven into the ground some hundred feet west of the point where his car stopped rolling.

In the 3-car crash at the junction of Mokena road and U. S. 45 the only person hospitalized, according to State Police Stuart Tribe, was Wayne Simmons, 27, of Dix, Ill. He is in Silver Cross hospital under treatment for head injuries.

Simmons was reported driving north on U. S. 45 and at 191st struck a car driven by Otto Juergens, 72, of 4017 West 173rd Place. Juergens was reported to have pulled out into Route 45, into the path of Simmons car. Juergens' car was spun over to the northeast corner of the intersection. Simmons' auto glanced off and rammed the car of Mrs. Ada Hoogstra, 39, of 9660 W. 191st st. Mrs. Hoogstra escaped injury. Juergens was taken to Hazel Crest hospital in the Gerardi ambulance but was not held there. He is said to have suffered bruises. Simmons was taken to Silver Cross hospital in the Dames ambulance. He is being treated for head injuries. Two passengers in his car, James May, 20, of Dix, and William Quinn, 22, Mt. Vernon, Ill. were treated for minor hurts and released.

Plans Conference on Duties and Responsibilities of School Boards

Verne E. Crackel, Will county superintendent of schools, has invited school board members, new and old, administrators and other school personnel in, the county to a conference for a discussion of problems of the educational field. The conference is to be at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday night, April 25, at Joliet high school.

There will be a panel of three speakers, to be followed by discussion and questions. The speakers are, Robert Deffenbaugh, assistant legal adviser to the state superintendent of public instruction who will talk on the legal responsibilities of school boards; Lowell Fisher, Urbana school board member and state chairman of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary school, who is to dwell on board responsibility and authority, and Dr. H. L. Richards, superintendent of Blue Island high school, who is to handle the topic of maintenance of good relationship between school board and administrative staff.

Board members have been urged to bring questions to the conference pertaining to their legal responsibilities and liabilities as such, questions relating to board policies and regulations, meetings, records, reports by chief administrators, etc.

"I have felt for some years that a conference such as is to be held next Thursday evening might be helpful to all of us in our total educational program for the boys and girls of our county," Supt. Crackel said. "The school code of Illinois provides the citizens of every school district elect a board of education or a board of directors to assume the responsibility of providing school; it authority is broad and its responsibilities are great.

"The administrator, as educational leader, advises with the boards and acts as its chief executive officer. I believe all of us might profit from a meeting devoted to a discussion of some common problems that affect the educational welfare of each community and its children.

"It is hoped that we can discuss these responsibilities and relationships in an informal way so that new board members, and the others too, may have a clear understanding of the place and function of the school board in our total program," Supt. Crackel went on. "Membership on a school board is a real community service; school board members should represent the whole community, not a particular group or segment."

The first submarine to actually sink another enemy vessel under combat conditions was the Confederate "Hunley" built during the Civil War.

Assisting the Rev. Riemann in the presentation of the award were Ken Lorenz, patrol leader; A. C. Omland, scoutmaster, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelch, Sr.

Surplus Funds Of By Gone Clubs To Finance Dance

Two dancing organizations, the Dancing Dates and the Palos Pacers, are giving a Country Carousal dance. It is for the specific benefit of former members and their dates of these organizations which have now disbanded.

The dance will be held in the Palos Park village hall Saturday evening, May 4, from 8:30 to midnight, and will be free to those attending. The reason it will be free, because there is a surplus of funds in the treasuries of these two dance organizations, which the Carl Sandburg students have paid into over the past few years.

However, even tho it is free, it is real necessary that members make reservations, to be made by Thursday, April 25. No reservations will be accepted after that date, the committee states. For that purpose call Mrs. Francis Kamis, GIBson 8-0688 or Mrs. Victor Leatzow, GIBson 8-0500.

The committee advises the young people members and their dates "to wear your Sunday best and plan to meet all your friends at this dance for a big final 'blast'". They suggest to mark the calendars and call now for reservations. Refreshments will be served throughout the evening and a good time is being planned for all.

Mokena Book Club

The April meeting of the Mokena Book Club was held at the home of Mrs. George Bills with 16 members and 1 guest present.

The business meeting included the establishing of a Memorial Fund to be used for special projects in connection with the Mokena library. The first money in the fund was donated in memory of the late Miss Flora Maute who had been a member of the club until last spring.

Announcement was made that the library now has a copy of the book, "A Man Called Peter" as a part of its permanent collection.

The Nun's Story, by Katherine Hulme, was reviewed by Mrs. Leo Marcoux. This rich and full story of a nun's private battle for goodness was particularly appropriate for the Lenten season and was beautifully done by Mrs. Marcoux. Mrs. Warren Manker was welcomed as a new member.

Wayfarers

The Wayfarers and its auxiliary met April 13 in the social rooms of the Methodist church with 22 members present. An interesting meeting was held in which several activities were planned for the coming months. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bernice Mann, Mrs. Harriette Wagner and Mrs. Hazel Larsen.

The WSCS of the Methodist church will hold its annual Easter bake and fancy work sale this Saturday, April 20 in the Cooper and Hostert garage starting at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. William Bradley is taking reservations for those in Mokena who plan to attend the wedding and reception, Saturday, April 27 of the Rev. Jerald Jackson, pastor of the Methodist

Across The Counter . . .

Recently the Chief Judge of a U.S. Court of Appeals indulged in the time-honored judicial prerogative of poking fun at the language of insurance policies.

Said the judge in his decision: "The true meaning of this comprehensive general liability policy is difficult to determine.

Bill Mulder

An examination of it involves a physical effort of no mean proportions. Starting out with three printed pages, the first of which consists largely of a form which is filled in on a typewriter, the reader is confronted also with six physically attached supplements, or riders, inconveniently assorted into different sizes. If he is possessed of reasonable physical dexterity, he may then attempt to integrate and harmonize the dubious meanings to be found in this not inconsiderable package."

The judge concluded: "To describe the policy as ambiguous is a substantial understatement. Guided by the rule that insurance contracts are to be construed liberally in insured's favor, it might be claimed there emerges through the confusing language and the shapeless masses of words, an intention to protect the insured from the commonplace liability risks incidental to his business."

This decision illustrates an important point: It is very difficult for a "layman" (even a judge) to understand liability policies, or to determine what "protection" you have. The best bet is to call an expert, such as our agency, and let us work out the proper liability coverage!

The annual Sandburg high school Science Fair, held April 5 in the school gymnasium, was a huge success both from the standpoint of number and quality of exhibits and from the overall attendance, which exceeded 800 persons.

The large crowd was treated to a different form of entertainment and in many cases came away very surprised at the knowledge of the exhibitors over a range of 125 different science-related subjects.

The project judged most outstanding, was on insects, by a sophomore biology student, Robert Stellwagen. Other winners in the three main groups, were general science: first place, Judy Galbraith, with her project "A Model of The Ear"; second place, William Franks, with "Model Atomic Power Plant" and third place, Karen Tobias with "Human Anatomy." ## International Hits 50th Year

Fifty years of progress in International motor truck engineering and production are represented by the original 1907 "IHC Auto Wagon" and the new "Golden Jubilee" light-duty pickup, one of the new International A-line of light, medium and heavy-duty motor trucks being introduced to the Tinley Park area by Goodson Farm Equipment, 6744 North St., Tinley Park. The high-wheeled Auto Wagon's 20-horsepower, two cylinder air-cooled engine compares with five gasoline and four LPG six-cylinder high-torque truck engines from 112 to 154 horsepower available for the new International models. While the Auto Wagon was built specifically for hauling produce from farm to market, new International trucks are offered in a wide variety of four and six-wheel and all-wheel-drive models for specialized and general trucking applications. Golden Jubilee pickup, rated at 4,200 pounds gross vehicle weight, features a seven-foot custom pickup body, new Sweep-Around windshield with 1,181-square inch glass area and a new 65-inch wide custom cab which has the widest inside dimension of any comparable truck model. Wheelbase is 114 inches. Standard engine is rated at 112 horsepower and 154-horsepower engine is optional.

When you Attend . . .
You salute Christ and His church.
You come to adore, to worship and praise.
You find yourself surrounded by kindred spirits who are also exposing their souls to God. No radio or television service can thus surround you. In church you are in the "communion of saints."
You experience a feeling of identification with stalwart souls who stood where you are standing.
You testify and witness to the faith that is in you. You increase your faith.
You are in a sanctuary of life, which may be human in organization, but divine in its foundation and purpose.
You testify that "God is the answer." You go to church every Sunday.

Easter Carries Double Meaning, Says Author

By REV. EUGENE BURKE,
Professor and Author
(Paulist Service)

The Resurrection of Jesus tells the Christian that the power to vanquish death and to put on immortality is now held out to him and to all men. Death, which has always stood astride the path of the future—robbing our dreams of fulfillment—is finally conquered.

Yet, Easter cannot be seen only as a victory. It must enter our lives in the same way in which it entered into the history of man—by way of the Cross. The Resurrection of Jesus is the victory—but death on Calvary is the battlefield where victory was won.

How can failure, and suffering, and defeat be the very weapons of victory? What is the meaning of this Christian paradox?

The answer lies in the fact that enters into the life of each of us—the fact of sin. Sin is the force that alone possesses the power to destroy life.

Not only do pride, selfishness, lust, avarice and murder destroy the noblest hopes of man. But these sins cut across the path of life, destroying our relationship with God. And He alone can fulfill our dreams by an everlasting life.

To all the disorder and fury of man separated from God, Christ submitted Himself, willingly and lovingly, for our redemption. And His obedience, even unto death on the Cross, made it possible for man to be freed from the slavery to sin and be taken into the light and kingdom of God. "By dying He has overcome our death; by rising again He has restored our life."

This is the twofold reality that must be found in our lives if they are to be triumphantly Christian. If we do not share in the power of the Cross over sin, we will not share in the glory of Easter.

We do not share in Christ's power and glory simply by believing in it—or by hearing it—or by reading about it. We must LIVE it, by our personal individual acts and choices. Like Christ, we must "do only the things that are pleasing to my Father."

We must live in the conviction that every step of the Christian life, Christ has taken before us, and now takes with us. This is to share personally in the passion of Christ—the one road that leads to our everlasting share in the glorious victory of Easter Sunday.

Bremen Thinclads Cop Two Meets

Take Seven Firsts in Encounter With L-W; Led Thornton Frctl.

The late arrival of spring and poor track conditions have been plaguing the Bremen community high school track team. However, in a flurry of activity last week, the tracksters were able to get in one and one half track meets.

On April 10, with headwinds and a soft track, the Braves were successful in defeating Lincoln-Way high school.

In track and field events the winning positions, either first, second, or third, are awarded a certain number of points and totalled. The winning team may not have won the most events, but they must tally the larger number of points.

The events are: 120 yard high hurdles, 100 yard dash, 880 yard run, 880 yard relay, 440 yard dash, 180 yard low hurdles, the mile, 220 yard run, the mile relay, the shout put the pole vault, the broad jump, discus throw, and the high jump.

Taking first for Bremen were: Lewis in both the 880 yard run and the mile run; Marx took first place in the 440; Bond in the broad jump; Wimberly in the discus throw; Parson in the shot put; and the team of Bond, Palmer, Stupak and Caffery the 880 relay.

On April 11 the ECHS thinclads met the tracksters of Thornton Fractional, but before the meet could be finished, a snow storm made the track slippery. When the meet was called, Hammer had taken a first in the 880; Nelson in the pole vault; and the team of Bond, Palmer, Zimloeruff, and Craffrey had taken a first in the 880 relay.

The score of the meet was Bremen 32 and Thornton Fractional 26.

Call Meetings to Get Small Fry Teams Organized

Meetings to get Small Fry baseball organized in Mokena and New Lenox for the coming season have been arranged.

The meeting in Mokena will be held next Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Carpenter street school. All parents and adults interested in the Small Fry league are invited to attend.

At New Lenox plans are further advanced and a call has been issued for boys eight to 12 years old to report at the Oakview school, North Cedar road, at 1 o'clock this Saturday afternoon, April 20, for registration.

Boys who will not be 13 before Aug. 1, are eligible.

The Lions club of New Lenox is in charge of the Small Fry program there. The coaches are Robert and Ralph Gleason.

Survey Causes Speculation on New Highway

Surveyors from the state highway department have been working in the Marley-New Lenox area for more than a week, apparently laying out a route for a new highway that is to enter Will county from the northeast and angle in a southwesterly direction, passing Joliet to the south.

Some say that this will become a part of U. S. Route 6. The road is said to have its beginning in Indiana, pass near Flossmoor or Homewood, pass south of Tinley, north of Mokena and about two miles to the east of Marley.

There are stakes set which show that it may cross Cedar road south of the high voltage power line and that it is expected to cross U. S. 30 between New Lenox and Gougar road. There are also stakes across the John Francis and the former Fred Francis farms. It is reported that the federal government would pay 90% of the cost and the state 10%.

So far no announcement concerning the highway has been made. It was pointed out that surveys are frequently made only to have the plans discarded later.

This may be the case here, it was said. It was added that this northeast-southwest route may be a parcel of the plans for the long bridge and by pass of Route 6 on the south side of Joliet. There are several plans in the making to provide high level bridges across the waterway at Joliet and one such plan calls for the beginning of a bridge route on the southeast side of Joliet, in the vicinity of Briggs street and Fifth ave.

Libraries Pay Big Dividends To Communities

Ins. TP Librares 1-24
(Editor's Note) The Executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce expresses "Why the Community Needs a Library." by HARRY TREVARTHEN

A public library is the most rewarding investment any community can make and yields the greatest returns. It benefits every member of the community, young and old.

Free access to good literature nurtures the child's search for knowledge. Directing the child and leading him by example to a love of reading is one of the greatest gifts a parent can bestow.

The written word is a powerful force for good or evil. Led in the right direction by supplying good literature, children reject the sordid and unworthy type.

Having a library with reference books, not only enables the student to gather needed information, but regular visits to the public library leads him down many paths, some of which may greatly influence his life.

Teachers, leaders of youth groups and parents can find in the public library, enough material to keep small hands busy and minds active.

Books are a great solace to the elderly. They may travel while sitting in the armchair. They become friends to fill lonely hours and keep their minds active.

Having a library in a community benefits the businessmen as well as the citizens. It raises material and mental values of the community.

A town with a public library is a living memorial to all of its citizens, giving them a sense of pride in their community. It is a landmark of distinction. The Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce asks citizens to support such a worthy structure.

"Where do I go from here?"

A good question for everyone to ponder.

Officials, Civic Groups Can Air Views on Tax Support for CTA

(CNS) Mayors, village officials and civic association representatives will have their say at the next meeting of Illinois senate-house committee on mass transportation problems.

They have been invited by the committee chairman, Rep. Elroy C. Sandquist (R., Chicago). The session—expected to center on the controversial CTA subsidy proposal—will open at 10 a.m. Thursday, April 18, in the main hearing room on the 19th floor at 160 N. LaSalle st., Chicago.

At last week's hearing, the committee heard objections from several railroad officials to proposed subsidies for the CTA. One banker, however, urged a subsidy for service and maintenance costs. He was Edward Eagle Brown, chairman of the First National Bank of Chicago.

J. P. Kilroy, president of the Milwaukee Road, sent a statement saying that "subsidies should be used only after full and painstaking investigation unmistakably reveals there is no alternative."

Strong opposition to subsidies for mass transportation came from Wayne A. Johnston, president of the Illinois Central railroad.

"The financing of transportation should not involve a subsidy," he said.

"This method of financing is unsound as it places on many people and property owners an expense for facilities and services that are not used. Fundamentally, every unit of our economy ought to justify its existence. In transportation the fares charged should be kept adequate to maintain the service."

"That has been one of the greatest mistakes made by those who have either been appointed or elected as regulators. They have in many instances attempted to keep the company providing transportation on a starvation diet. Such a procedure ruins good service, results in having poor equipment and facilities and destroys the incentive of management to do the kind of job of which it is capable."

Johnston suggested the CTA be confined to a five or eight mile radius in the center of the city and be a "short-haul and feeder passenger service."

The CTA should not extend its authority over "different modes of transportation such as provided by the railroads," he said.

Officials of suburban bus companies sought elimination of gas tax and state license payments—including Paul O. Dittmar, president of South Suburban Safeway Lines.

Dittmar said "about 30 to 35" bus companies in the state paid $450,000 in gas taxes and another $197,000 in vehicle license fees last year.

"All of them need relief and this problem is nationwide. I might add," said Dittmar. His company paid $215,000 on these taxes last year, he said.

He emphasized his company is not seeking a subsidy such as what the CTA wants.

"They ask subsidy. All we ask are tax exemptions," said Dittmar, adding:

"The CTA is proof that we need relief."

Washington News Letter

THE PICTURE TODAY

For 20 years your congressman has preached economy in government and lower taxes, has voted for economy and lower taxes, and—like Senator Byrd—has felt frustrated in his efforts. His voice—again like Senator Byrd's—has been a "voice crying in the wilderness."

Your Congressman has voted during those 20 years against every foreign aid bill—and for eign aid during those 20 years has cost the American taxpayers $103.5 billion.

During the past 20 years Senator Byrd and Congressman Mason have been frustrated men, disappointed men, disgusted men. Both men had about arrived at the point of discouragement.

President Eisenhower's budget demanding $71.8 billion—the highest budget in peacetime history—coupled with an inexcusably heavy tax load that has been borne by a patient people for altogether too long—has finally "broken the camel's back" and changed a patient people into a rebellious people. The Boston Tea Party had nothing on the flood of mail flowing into Washington from every state in the Union, mail expressing disgust, disappointment, despair, and anger. The flood of congressional mail today is similar to the flood of mail that poured into the Capitol 20 years ago when Franklin D. Roosevelt attempted to pack the supreme court. That attempt threatened to destroy the very foundations of our government; this Eisenhower budget and our present tax load threatens to destroy our economic structure.

Today both Senator Byrd and Congressman Mason are going around with smiles on their faces. The entire spending picture has changed. Many of last year's spenders have had a change of heart; they have become economy-minded; they are willing to vote in the interest of the long-suffering taxpayers.

The battle for economy is won in the house. Some $5 billion or more will be cut from the President's $71.8 billion budget. The battle will then be transferred to the senate. It will be won or lost there. The eyes and anger of the nation's taxpayers should now be turned upon the Senators. Senator Byrd will need the help, the prayers, and the vocal protests of the overburdened taxpayers of this Nation or he is to hold the line and win the economy battle in the Senate. Will YOU help him? He needs YOUR help.

WHO IS TALKING

The writer is an old-line Taft Republican who believes firmly in economy and efficiency in government. Today he is getting some comfort and satisfaction out of the discomfort, dissatisfaction, and disillusionment of the "Citizens for Eisenhower" over the Eisenhower $71.8 billion budget.

That budget "was not only made carefully, it was made intelligently." To question that budget is "futile and fatuous (silly, insane, stupid, idiotic), and the people, who suddenly become economy-conscious just do not know what they are talking about."

This is President Eisenhower talking—not Harry Truman—and he is talking about the congressmen who propose to cut his budget.

TIME CHANGES AND UNCLE SAM

"Uncle Sam" is no longer a lanky rustic with a goat's beard, strong nose and shrewd eyes. Cartoonists still use the figure, but it no longer fits.

"Sam is an eager beaver in a gray flannel suit, complete with tortoiseshell spectacles, briefcase bulging with 'reports' and tranquilizing pills.

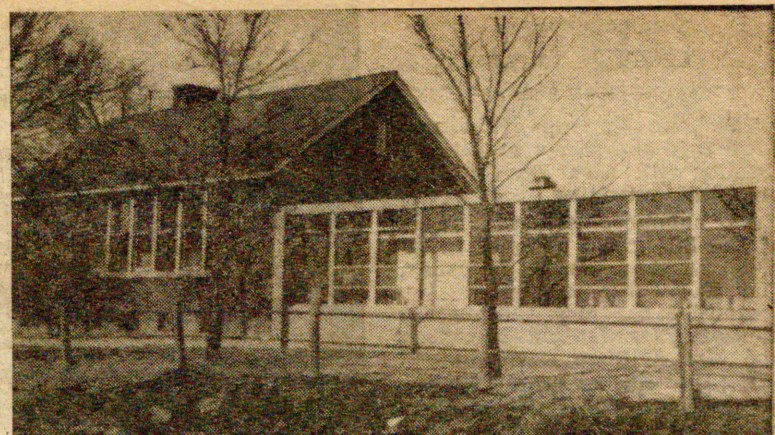

He has become a sort of a glorified social worker on a global scale, dashing about from place to place by plane, harried, hurried, flashing a nervous smile, and muttering about giving away billions to all and sundry at the drop of a hat, for indefinite periods."

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith.—(Galatians 5, 22.)

Why should anyone deliberately choose hatred, turmoil, misery, when the Lord Jesus—ever eager and ready to show us the way to all that is joyous and good in life—stands waiting at the door of our souls for us to ask Him to enter?

Addition to Schmuhl School

Schmuhl school—once within an ace of being closed for lack of facilities to take care of its constantly growing enrollment is now a very going concern. Voters approved a bond issue last year by means of which three rooms have been added to the original building. The addition sort of envelopes the old building and it is impossible to find a spot where one may picture the plant as it is now without resorting to an aerial view. The picture above was taken from the roadway that runs along the west side of the school. More of the addition is to be found on the south and east sides.

Champaign County Leads in Farm Sports Festival With 1,285 Points

Champaign county, winner of last year's Illinois Farm Sports Festival, is leading the 1957 Sports Festival with 1,285 points, the first point tabulation announced by Roy Will, manager, reveals.

Three events have been held—folk and square dancing, bowling, and Rural Youth basketball. Scoring is based primarily on participation. Will explained, in keeping with the main purpose of Sports Festival—relaxation and fun for rural people.

By winning the point total derby last year, Champaign county dethroned longtime winner Sangamon county. This year Sangamon had comparatively few entries in folk and square dancing, falling behind Champaign and Adams counties to rank third.

All three counties participated fully in bowling. In addition, all had success at district tournaments to qualify several entrants for the finals. This gained additional participation points. Champaign ranked first and still had only one bowling champion—its Rural Youth men's team.

Will, who is also assistant secretary for the Illinois Agricultural Association, said counties now are forming their softball leagues and making plans for the summer activity before the finals of remaining Sports Festival events at Champaign in August.

There are five men's classes and two women's classes in the softball finals. The male classes include Boy's 4-H, County League, All-county, Rural youth and Over 35ers. For the girls, there are the Girls' 4-H and Girls' Open Class teams.

Champaign county had 500 points in folk and square dancing, 725 points in bowling, and 60 in Rural Youth basketball to gain its 1,285 points. Adams county picked up 250 in folk and square dancing, 650 in bowling, and 135 in Rural Youth basketball for 1,035 points.

Sangamon earned 200 points in folk and square dancing, 690 in bowling, and 60 in Rural Youth basketball for 950 points. Other top counties include the following: St. Clair, 790; Warren, 585; Will, 565; McHenry, 535; Carroll, 525; Pike, 465; and Kane, 460. Only two counties—Warren and McHenry—received points in one classification. In both cases, bowling participation provided the only source of points.

Food Sense--Not Nonsense

Who's Barking up the Wrong Tree?

Weight watchers and dieters who sit down on the job of living are barking up the wrong tree. Some outstanding scientists have tracked down the principal cause of overweight—lack of activity—at work and at play.

This underactivity is robbing adults and children alike of their favorite pastime—eating. According to these nutritionists, overeating no longer is considered the first cause of obesity, America's foremost health menace. These scientists have found that creeping overweight follows lessened activity.

Recently, a Harvard University study emphasized an alarming trend: Suburban high school girls, on the whole, are not active. Researchers compared two groups of these girls. One group was obese, the other, of normal weight. They noted that girls of normal weight spent twice as much time in some type of physical activity, which included dancing—and they ate more—than did their obese classmates. Later, at summer camp, when girls in both groups were under strenuous routines, all lost weight, in spite of eating more than they did before. This fact refutes the tale that added activity increases appetite to such an extent that a gain in weight results.

The role of exercise in weight control has been abused. Statements, such as "You must walk rapidly for six hours to lose one pound," also can mean a brisk one-hour walk on six days.

Dieters who unwittingly reduce their requirements for food by a continuous sit-down program are barking up the wrong tree. Through constant restriction of different foods, they inflict a life-long state of mild hunger upon themselves. In contrast, an active life, with regular exercise, permits the enjoyment of normal meals which include plenty of enriched bread and cereals, fruits and vegetables, meat and milk—all foods needed by the body.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
Voters, apparently afraid of losing a high school in Tinley Park, voted for the purchase of a site on 175th st., personally selected by the Bremen board of education. However, voting was very close with only a small percentage made voting for the purchase than against it.

It became a very cloudy and confused issue last week following the public meeting held in Saenger hall and many rumors maligning the opposers of the site were widespread in Tinley Park.

These men were acting in the best interests of the community with no thought of personal gain as was the opinion expressed by William Libbert, Tinley's representative on the Bremen board. It seems a shame that men who are supposed to be intelligent and educated have to stoop to such tactics to get their own way.

Now that the election is over and is a dead issue, what I wonder about is this. Libbert publicly said at the meeting the board of education paid for renting the hall. On Saturday, posters were placed thruout Tinley and a sound truck advised voters to vote for the site.

I do not like to see a board of education become a band of politicians. What I would like to know is, whether the cost of this advertising was also paid with taxpayers' money as was the hall?

A recent editorial in another community paper said that boards of education have taken over the high schools and stripped the superintendents of their administrative duties. It looks to me like this is the case and in particular the Bremen board which I think are getting too big for their britches. Come next election when the men on this board are seeking re-election, I am afraid they will not fare very well.

EDITORIAL

THE BREMEN HIGH SCHOOL ELECTION

As might be expected we have had a few calls from persons who were delighted with the outcome of the Bremen high school election in which the site for a new building which the board had selected in Tinley Park was approved.

We had been urging the board members to select another site in Tinley instead of the one chosen and since they gave no indication of changing their minds we asked the voters to cast their ballots against it. The voters, by a small margin, chose to accept the decision of the board.

Just for the record we wish to repeat what we have said several times before. There was nothing personal in our opposition to the board's site. We have been motivated solely by what we believed to be for the best interests of Tinley Park.

Bremen township has no industries and as a result its equalized assessed valuation is low—approximately $54-million. Thus, the entire burden of supporting the various taxing bodies, falls upon homeowners.

We believe the salvation of homeowners and taxing bodies in Bremen township lies in attracting industry to the area. The large assessed valuations on factories and plants will bring in more tax revenues and give relief to the overburdened homeowner.

The site selected by the Bremen high school board in Tinley Park is in the middle of an area that is designated for industry on the master plan of the village. Building a school there can, and is, likely to bring the industrial plans for the village to a halt.

The Tinley Park civic leaders who opposed use of property marked for industry as a school site stated repeatedly that they wanted a high school in Tinley. They believed there were other sites there that were better fitted for school purposes.

Some persons—too many it turned out—apparently believed that the issue was whether Tinley Park was to have a high school or industry and they chose a school.

This was never the issue. No one wanted to deprive Tinley of a high school. Persons who opposed the school board's site did so because they wanted a high school AND industry and they feared that acceptance of the site would mean the loss of industry.

arrive. Thursday night, April 11, they met in the home of Mrs. Annamay Groves to honor birthday of Annamay, Elsie Johnson and Esther Conover.

The Ladies Aid of Christ Lutheran church will conduct their annual pre Easter bake and food sale in the Lutheran church school, Saturday, April 20. Sale to start at 1.00 p.m. As in past years, this is an opportunity to select your dessert for Easter dinner.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met last Thursday afternoon in Wesley hall. Mrs. Robert Plastow, was in charge of the devotions. The society will again sponsor a rummage sale to be held Thursday, May 16 in the church basement, so get your articles together and bring them to the church before that date. Plans are also in the offing to have a mother and daughter banquet on May 9, details later. Refreshments were served by our president, Mrs. Harry Anderson. Remember to bring eggs to the church basement this week which will be delivered to the Methodist Old Peoples home in time for Easter, also Lake Bluff Children's home.

Laurel Camp No. 1796, RNA will meet Thursday evening, April 25 at the home of Mrs. Harold Shroats, at 8 p.m. Members are urged to attend.

Files Suit for Permission to Demolish House

(CNS) Chicago Heights has filed suit for authority to demolish an "abandoned, dilapidated building beyond the realms of repair" at 1231 Vincennes avenue in the city.

The building is unsafe, a fire hazard endangering nearby structures, and is an "attractive nuisance to children," according to the suit on file in Circuit court.

General taxes have not been paid on the property "for the last several years," said Atty. Ernest A. Lawler, representing Chicago Heights.

Named defendants were Warren F. Montague, Mrs. Grace Phelan, George Montague, Gardner Glos, Augusta Montague, the Elmhurst National Bank individually and as trustee, D. Arnold, Emmett Richards, and "unknown owners."

The suit identified Richards as holding the mortgage note on the property and Arnold as grantee in tax deeds.

Currently the property is listed on tax rolls under "no name," the suit stated.

It is believed that Anna Montague was the mother of Alice M. Montague, the suit continued, and that Anna died about 1923 or 1924 leaving Alice sole owner.

Alice died a spinster July 2, 1935, according to the suit, and left as heirs, a sister, Mrs. Grace Phelan, and two nephews, Warren F. Montague and George Montague.

The suit identified Warren F. Montague as the only child of Robert Thomas Montague, who was Alice Montague's brother. George Montague was identified as the only child of Nelson Montague, another brother of Alice Montague.

Both of her brothers died before Alice did, the suit stated.

The suit gave no identification for Gardner Glos.

CARL SANDBURG
HIGH SCHOOL
by Hilda Gauthier
AH! IT MARCHES!

Bonjour, Henri! Bonjour, Mlle. Bahen! Comment allez-vous? Thus a typical beginning of a typical French class. The French department at Carl Sandburg is relatively new, this being only the second year in which the language has been offered in the school. Students are kept busy speaking, reading and writing the language. In addition, time is devoted to a study of the geography, history, and culture of the French people as well as the French influences in North America.

The French I class is currently studying French foods, cooking, and menus. They have already studied such things as learning to tell time, dates, and count in the language, buy a ticket in a railroad station, rent a room in a hotel, and, of course, they continue to study the basic vocabulary and grammar needed for an understanding of the language.

French II students have been investigating the works of many of the great authors of France. They have read several fables of La Fontaine, the French Epic, LaChanson de Roland, and are currently studying scenes from a comedy by Moliere. In addition, French II students are required to make notebooks which consist of articles about France or the French language which they have found in newspapers and magazines.

French students participate in the Language club and recently sponsored a Mardi Gras Ball, complete with costumes, masks, and floor show.

French periodicals such as L'Illustration, Paris Match, France-Amerique, Realites, and many others are available for use in the classroom. An American publication for French students called LaJeunesse is used regularly during classes, also.

People walking by the French class on many mornings might be surprised to hear sounds of music coming from the room. Students enjoy singing well-known French folk songs as well as many popular-type songs made famous by such names as Charles Trenet, Edith Piaf and others. Records, films, and the tape recorder are used when time permits. Students are urged to watch timely television programs such as the recent Maurice Chevalier program, "Paris."

Earl McGrath, U. S. Commissioner of Education, once said, "Whether we discharge our world responsibilities well or poorly, foolishly or wisely, ignorantly or understandingly, will be determined by our ability to understand other peoples and their ability to understand us.—To gain such understanding many Americans must command a knowledge of one or more foreign languages."

In conjunction with the entire foreign language department, the French classes are working toward this goal.

PLAN PLAYS

Plans are being made to present three one-act plays in place of the usual three-act play. The plays will be presented on two evenings, May 23 and May 24, at Carl Sandburg high school.

"Sorry, Wrong Number," a drama by Lucille Fletcher, is the tale of a neurotic invalid whose only contact with the outside world is her phone. Over this, one night, because of a crossed wire, she hears plans for a murder, which turns out to be her own. Her frantic efforts to enlist help thru the only means at her disposal, her growing terror and realization of the truth and a full character portrait not only of herself but of the unseen murderer, whose identity and motivations are surmised but never revealed make this an outstanding study in suspense. This play was originally done by Agnes Moorehead on the radio program, "Suspense," and was one of radio's ten 'bests'.

A comedy, by Anne Coulter Martens, "If Girls Asked Boys for Dates," has also been selected. In this play the whole dating problem is reversed: George is getting dressed but can't decide what to wear and he's all a-twitter because he doesn't want to keep Nancy waiting when she calls for him—not on their first date!

A terribly exciting little affair happens in the humdrum life of John and Mary, two of the most ordinary people in the world, in the play, "The Man in the Bowler Hat" by A. A. Milne. Mrs. Edward Kloeck will be the director; Miss Joanne Bahen will assist.

PTA News

Ins. PTA news stand.
Mokena Unit

The next meeting of the Mokena PTA will be held April 23 at 8:00 pm. in the school gym. Mrs. Albert Janner, chairman of the safety committee will show two films, 'Stop and Go on a Bike' and 'The Perfect Crime.' A member of the Lincoln Way faculty will be present to speak to the parents of the future freshman classes.

The nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. Richard Sippel, chairman, Mrs. Russell Anderson and Mrs. Hans Mueller, will present their slate of nominees for officers of the PTA for next year. The election will follow immediately.

Additional nominations may be made from the floor, provided the consent of each nominee has been obtained before his name is placed in nomination.

Persons may vote for any members they choose, regardless of whether they have been nominated.

CARL SANDBURG UNIT

Ten new staff members will be needed at Carl Sandburg high school next fall, according to W. O. Fisher, superintendent, who is engaged in the annual effort to recruit new teachers. There is a desperate need for teacher housing — from three room furnished apartments to homes with one to three bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished, he added.

Mrs. Paul Schreiber, chairman of the PTA Teacher housing committee, states that a minimum of ten teacher housing units will be needed for August occupancy. There are, in addition, some teachers who would like to improve their housing condition or move into the community from outlying areas.

Mrs. Schreiber will head a hostess committee of women who will be ready to show available housing to prospective teachers visiting this area in the coming months. Housing is often the decisive factor in determining whether a teacher will accept a position at Sandburg. Because of limited housing conditions in Palos and Orland, many other suburban schools fare much better in competition with Carl Sandburg in locating teachers.

Supt. Fisher believes that a good teaching staff is the first prerequisite for a good school, and that care and time should be taken in the recruitment of teachers. Mrs. Schreiber asks that persons with any leads on housing to phone her at GI 8-1024, even if it's only an idea. The committee must have a good list of housing to show prospective teacher, Mrs. Schreiber said and added such will be a contribution to Supt. Fisher in his recruitment drive.

FRANKFORT UNIT

The Frankfort Parent-Teacher association met April 9. A short business meeting was conducted by president Mrs. Lee Robinson.

Delegates to the Illinois State Parent-Teacher association convention to be held in Chicago this month will be Mrs. Marion Bell, vice-president, and Mrs. Raymond Putman, secretary.

The next Eastern Area council meeting will be held in Manhattan May 2. All members and friends wishing to attend should call Mrs. Leroy Hanson. Mr. Duard Grace closed the meeting by leading in the singing of "For the Beauty of the Earth."

Mrs. Carl Marienfeld introduced the Safety representative, Howard Osmus who spoke about the necessity of safety education, the importance of recognizing hazards, and ways to correct them. In the school yard Fred Kohlhaugen, chief of the Frankfort Volunteer firemen, had arranged for a demonstration of their equipment. John Schwartz, safety engineer for the Ansul Chemical company, demonstrated the uses of different types of fire extinguishers for different types of fires.

Refreshments were served in the school by parents of the second grade children. Mrs. Ralph Thoresen was chairman. The second grade won the award for having the most parents in attendance.

Mrs. Lee Robinson wishes to announce the next executive board meeting will be held Wednesday, April 24 at 7:30 pm. in the school. All chairmen are asked to attend so that they may turn over the material of their office to the newly appointed chairman.

Cook County Opens Bids on Road Repairs

(CNS)—The Cook county board has opened bids for its spring road repair program that calls for blacktop resurfacing of 37.7 miles of streets and highway within the county.

Apparent low bids for the work total $2,466,953. About one-half million dollars of this will be spent on streets within Chicago. The bids were referred to the board's roads and bridges committee and contracts are expected to be awarded soon.

The county's share of the state motor fuel tax will pay for the work.

Following are streets and roads in this section to be repaved, the length of miles for each project, and the apparent low bidder:

Wentworth ave. from Bernice rd. to 167th st. in Calumet City and Lansing, .5 miles, the Gallagher Asphalt company $110,575.

Burnham ave. from point 484 feet south of 143rd st. to a point 124 feet south of 142nd st. in Burnham, .2 miles, Hedges Construction Co., $58,989.

Two combined projects: 131st st. from 96th st. to Harlem ave. in Palos township, 3 miles; and 135th st. from Harlem ave. to Kostner ave. in Bremen and Worth townships, 3.5 miles, George H. Hartung Co., $182,739.

Four combined projects: The George Brennan highway from Cicero ave. to 147th st. in Bremen township, 4.2 miles; Halsted st. from 138th st. to the Little Calumet river bridge in Riverdale, .9 miles; 154th st. from the Chicago road to Burnham ave. in Thornton township, 3.1 miles; and Michigan City road from a point 500 feet east of Calumet Expressway to 154th st. in Dolton and Calumet City, .6 miles; the Gallagher Asphalt Co., $235,727.

Three combined projects: Damen ave. from 76th to 79th sts. in Chicago, .4 miles; 119th st.

Writes New and Comprehensive Vehicle Law

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier announced today his staff has drawn up a re-codification of the state's motor vehicle law and has submitted it to the general assembly.

The bill has been introduced into the House under the sponsorship of Rep. John W. Lewis, Jr., of Marshall, Rep. William E. Pollack of Chicago and Rep. Robt. R. Robbins of Augusta.

The proposed law is primarily a long overdue simplification and clarification of existing regulations, Secretary Carpentier said.

Because of many amendments over a long period of years, the present law has become cumbersome and confusing, Mr. Carpentier said.

The bill would repeal present acts relating to automobile dealers, drivers licenses, motor vehicle theft, auto titles, license plates, financial responsibility, and motor vehicles for transportation of passengers and for hire, and would substitute a comprehensive act called the Illinois Motor Vehicle Law covering the same subjects.

Park Forest to Have Express Bus Service to Chicago Loop

(CNS) The Illinois commerce commission has authorized South Suburban Safeway to provide express bus service between Park Forest and Chicago's Loop. Stops also will be made in Chicago Heights, Glenwood, Thornton and South Holland.

However, the ICC order restricts the bus line from transporting passengers whose point of origin and destination are South Holland and the intersection of Balbo drive and Michigan avenue in Chicago.

The Loop terminal for the Park Forest run is 20 E. Randolph st.

The order also authorizes one deluxe express bus run for the Park Forest Commuter's club. Equipped with television, a coffee bar, carpeting, card table and electric razor, the bus leaves Park Forest at 6:45 a.m. The return trip leaves Chicago's Loop at 5:15 p.m.

Cash fare from Park Forest to the Loop is $1.35. Fare from Chicago Heights is $1.15, from Glenwood $1.05, from Thornton 90 cents, and South Holland 85 cents.

Excluding the deluxe run, there will be 3 round trips daily. Service will be non stop from South Holland to downtown Chicago.

The ICC order reported Park Forest has a population of 27,000 with another 8,000 expected in 1,500 more homes now planned. Population of Chicago Heights was listed at 30,000, South Holland's 9,000.

Sam Campbell to Show Travel Film at Joliet April 30

Sam Campbell, always a favorite with Joliet audiences, will present "Gems of the Canadian Rockies", at the Joliet township high school auditorium, Tuesday evening, April 30, at 8 p.m. The program is being sponsored by the Adult Education division of the high school and junior college.

"Gems of the Canadian Rockies" is one of Campbell's new est films and has never before been presented in Joliet. The unsurpassed grandeur of the great western range of mountains as it exists in Alberta and British Columbia is presented. Pictures of dawn over Lake Louise, the fierce rapids and falls of the Kicking Horse river, the quiet glory of Emerald Lake, the beauty of Banff, the Columbia ice fields, the Athabaska glacier, Jasper and many other scenes make this one of Sam Campbell's most amazing presentations.

THE CHANGING SCENE

It's Time to Make Book With Social Security Office on Wages

People who are receiving social security benefits and who worked and earned more than $1200 in 1956 have until April 15 to make the report of the earnings to the Social Security Administration. These earnings include wages and self-employment even though the work may not be covered by social security. They do not include interest on investments or dividends or any pension payments.

Harold Whiteside, manager of the Joliet social security office, said today that nearly all of those who had more than $1200 earnings in 1956 have already made their reports. Those who have not made the report required will lose some benefits if they don't make this report before April 15th.

Whiteside said that his office has had more claims for benefits in the first three months of 1957 than the office had for the entire year of 1954. In addition all the claims from the farmers require copies of the tax returns and proof of age. The new provision for making benefit payments to disabled children over 18 when the parent is receiving benefits, and disability payments to those over age 50 in July have also added to the work. In spite of increasing the staff to 26 people and working overtime the office is unable to keep up with the work. He asked that those who have applied for benefits since the first of the year be patient.

WTTW to Show Film of President's Press Conferences

Half hour films of President Eisenhower's news conferences now are being telecast in their entirety over WTTW, Channel 11.

The films are flown to WTTW for use the day after the news conferences, and generally are scheduled at 7:30 on Thursday and for school viewing at 9:30 am. on Friday.

Excerpts from these news conferences are used on news

THE NEWS-BULLETIN
Thur. Apr. 18, 1957 Sec. 2 Pg. 1

shows on the other Chicago stations but Channel 11 is the only outlet offering the complete film, Program Manager James Robertson pointed out.

WALKING, ANYONE?

An average of 7 million cars a year will be sold by the U.S. auto industry between now and 1961, Fortune magazine predicts, due to steadily rising incomes and more "second" family cars. That's an 800,000 unit increase over the average sales figures for the last 4 years.

such an important gasoline advance!

NEW

CONOCO ROYAL

with exclusive oil-plating action

The first gasoline in history with TCP plus to boost power as it cuts wear as it increases mileage!

At last—a gasoline that protects as it powers! A new super gasoline with TCP plus the exclusive oil-plating action of Conoco '405'—the discovery that sprays upper engine parts with a protective lubricant more than 1000 times a minute... adds protective oil-plating action to the proved power benefit of TCP!

As the proud owner of a high-compression car, you've a right to expect mile after mile of peak engine performance.

Trouble is, about 62% of your time is spent in low-temperature, stop-and-go driving—a type exactly the opposite for which your engine was designed!

The results up till now? Friction wear—to age your car before its time. Spark-plug misfiring—to rob you of swift acceleration, full power, and maximum gas economy.

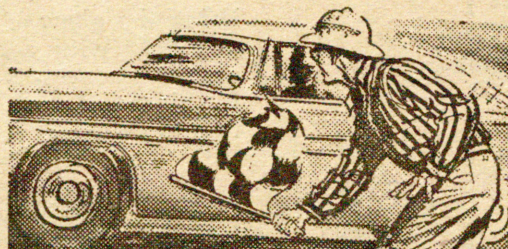

As far as you were concerned, a roughness in performance—instead of the smooth response you deserved.

Put now—whether you specialize in short hops or hit the highway—New Conoco Royal insures you all the performance you paid for. And, at the same time, introduces an astonishing new measure of protection.

Exclusive new oil-plating action

That's because New Conoco Royal combines

Exclusive oil-plating action—proved at Bonneville Salt Flats!

Bonneville Salt Flats. Powering a late-model American stock car in a grueling 24-hour run, crack drivers set 54 new speed and endurance marks... average over 118 mph for 2841 miles in 24 hours. Their record-smashing gasoline? New Conoco Royal with TCP plus!

all the power benefits of TCP with the unique new protection benefits of Conoco '405'. Now—more than 1000 times a minute—your upper engine is sprayed with a durable, friction-fighting lubricant with protective oil-plating action. So effective is this oil-plating action that piston ring wear is cut in half!

And it's so durable that even in extended, high-temperature driving there was no trace of engine 'knock' or high-compression power leak.

TCP... for that powerful difference!

You'll feel a powerful change in your car's performance after just two tankfuls of New Conoco Royal. TCP's power benefits assure you up to: 15% more power, 20% swifter acceleration, 150% longer spark-plug life, improved gas mileage, and maximum octane performance. TCP acts just like an engine tune-up! And the added protection of Conoco '405' means you'll keep that new car feeling—far longer!

Helps all cars... new and old

Because New Conoco Royal actually protects as it powers, it is ideal for use in all cars, regardless of make or year. In new cars, it helps retain every bit of your engine's high-compression power. In older models, it helps restore your car's original performance.

Either way, get that Royal Feeling when you drive! Get New Conoco Royal with TCP plus. It's ready right now at your nearby Conoco Dealer's.

Naval Arm of NATO Stands Watch To Keep Atlantic Open--and Free

The world's first international ocean command, the Atlantic Allied Command of NATO, observed its fifth anniversary April 10, at its headquarters in Norfolk, Va.

Often referred to as "The Guardian of the Atlantic", the command has the military role of a "wary watchdog". No international fleet rides at anchor in any given place—but should the occasion arise, the potential for sailing what would probably be the most powerful naval force in history has definitely been established.

It is important to know just why the need for such a force exists. The threat of the Soviet Navy takes on considerable magnitude due to the fact that the Soviets now possess the second largest navy in the world; and their rate of ship construction surpasses all the nations of the world.

Of equal importance in the overall picture is the Atlantic Ocean and its relationship to the defense of Western Europe.

The primary wartime mission of Admiral Jerauld Wright, U.S. Navy, NATO's Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, would be to assure that the sea lines of communication which bind the alliance of free nations together are maintained intact, and to assure that the military and economical power of North America could be deployed to Europe in event of war.

One of the first steps the Soviets would take would be to drive a steel wedge down the Atlantic to divide the two continents. To accomplish this, they would employ their powerful submarine fleet which numbers more than 450 subs at this time—and is constantly growing at the rate of about 100 additions a year.

Supplementing this force, they possess a surface navy of modern heavy cruisers, light cruisers and more than 200 of the latest type destroyers and escort, all of which are equipped with the latest developments in radar, fire-control, range-finders and other electronic gear. Despite the awesome picture this presents, the planning staff of SACLANT has not been idle while the Soviets have been growing in stature.

Conduct Exercises

The blueprint for retaliation—predicated on the fact that NATO is a defensive alliance and, as such, must allow the enemy to strike the first blow—has already been drawn up.

Realizing the fact that no theory is practicable until tested, the international command has conducted both small and large-scale exercises over the board reaches of the Atlantic to evaluate its strategy.

In the beginning, the problems were innumerable. First, there was a language barrier. With the adoption of two official languages by NATO—English and French—the next step required standardization. Not only was it necessary to set up a basic common doctrine for strategy, but a complex system for the interchange of ammunition, weapons, parts and supplies was required.

Assuming that Soviet Russia did strike, what would be the procedure undertaken by the forces who would immediately come under the command of SACLANT?

The first step would involve the use of the NATO "striking fleet" which consists of a team of ships with a nucleus of fast aircraft carriers. They would be able to launch atomic attacks from 1,000 miles at seas against submarine pens and airfields around Russia's northern coast or on the coast of the Baltic Sea.

By the use of this force, the planners of SACLANT's strategy figure they can destroy most of the Soviet submarines that are not actually at sea, by hitting them with atomic bombs in port, while also wrecking known shipyards to prevent additional construction.

Following this would come the blockade of Russia's submarine supply bases, utilizing more aircraft carriers, destroyers, mines and search aircraft equipped with the latest detection gear.

Planes a Big Help

With even the latest types of Soviet submarines requiring replenishment, the planners believe that many will be trapped enroute to or from their supply bases, which would seriously hinder their effectiveness.

Seeking out and destroying the submarines at sea would be the largest task of SACLANT's fleet. This would be accomplished by the use of search planes operating from such bases as Bermuda, Newfoundland, the East Coast of the United States, the Azores, Iceland and the coast of Scotland. These planes would operate in conjunction with the hunter-killer groups of surface warships.

These hunter-killer groups normally consist of an aircraft carrier plus six to eight especially equipped destroyers. Dive bombers from the carrier, equipped with built-in radar gear would search for subs. Helicopters also may be used. For underwater detection, "sonobouys", which could be dropped on the surface of the sea to radio back sonar messages, are being perfected for use from the air. Magnetic detectors also would be used to pick up even a silent sub lying still with engines secured.

Anti-submarine weapons including torpedoes equipped with electronic homing devices would be employed.

Convoys, bringing the needed men and supplies to Europe would be heavily guarded on their Atlantic crossings by a combination of air and surface support. In conjunction with this phase, an extensive network of wartime bases, numbering more than 100, including airfields, are committed to SACLANT. Many of the search aircraft would operate from these fields and the sea bases would be used for the replenishing of surface forces, in addition to being able to repair battle damages incurred by the ships.

How effective this retaliation strategy of SACLANT will be is, of course, a matter of speculation. But the planners are optimistic enough to state that the committed forces are presently able to give a good account of themselves if necessary. Altho Admiral Wright continues to insist that he needs additional escort for the tremendous job he may be called upon to perform, he has stated that "our chances are improving." The fate of the Western world may well depend on how well we keep the sea lanes of the Atlantic open—and for the purpose SACLANT stands ready.

A new age of automobiles begins with this car

Touch a button—in less than a minute the steel top disappears magically into the trunk—and you're in a supremely elegant convertible. It's two cars in one!

Here Today! The FORD SKYLINER—world's only Hide-Away hardtop

Once in a long, long while a car comes along that people remember and talk about for years after its introduction.

The first model "A" Ford was such a car...

The first Ford V-8 was such a car...

The first Ford Thunderbird was such a car.

Today Ford Division is proud to announce still another car that many say is destined to become the most famous Ford of all: The Skyliner—world's only hide-away hardtop.

If you plan to buy a new Ford, or already own one, the fact that Ford created this car is important to you. For all the exhaustive research, planning and testing that went into the Skyliner is evidence of the engineering skill you get in every Ford model.

The Ford SKYLINER, the only all-steel hide-away hardtop, is a car for history.

This is an old dream of Detroit, a dream of two generations of motorists.

And today Ford has made that dream come true—in steel.

But the story behind this dream is a story of men who refused to accept "no" for an answer. In the Ford tradition they kept striving toward the goal long after others had given up the chase.

To understand this Ford spirit you must go back to 1908. That was the year when many Detroiters smiled smugly as Henry Ford announced, "We will build a motor car for the great multitude... so low in price that no man making a good salary will be unable to own one."

And they did.

Today, nearly a half century later, Ford continues to cause the "experts" to change their tune. When you see this all-steel hardtop that retracts into a convertible, you'll be seeing a car that many said would never be mass-produced.

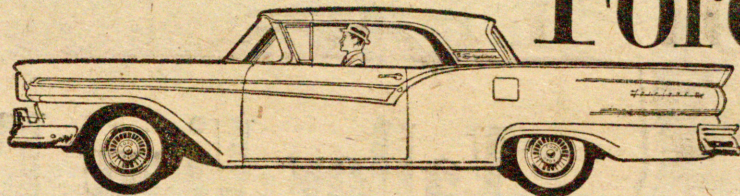

But Ford did it.

It was December 1956—after eight years of research, planning, experimenting and testing—when Ford unveiled this masterpiece... unveiled it amid all the pomp and splendor of the New York Automobile Show.

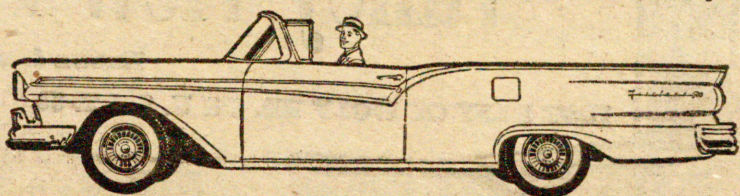

And now this history-making car, this prototype of a whole future generation of cars, is ready for your own personal inspection in the showrooms of many Ford Dealers.

Plan to see it soon. And ask your Dealer to show you the exciting advances in all models of the new Ford line for '57.

It's the newest new kind of Ford

1. It's an all-steel hardtop with sleek Victoria styling... 2. Touch a button and presto! It's a sun-loving convertible!

FARM NEWS

For Cook County
by
W. F. Whiteside

assistant farm adviser

The oat variety demonstration was planted April 11 on the Owen Maue farm, Orland township. The plot is located at the northwest corner of 183rd St. and 104th ave.

A weed control demonstration and tests of several vegetable varieties will be arranged by the County Extension Service this spring.

Watch for announcements of these demonstrations.

In proper landscaping the lawn, plants and house all become one unit instead of giving the impression that here is a lawn and there a house with some plants around it.

Here are some things you won't want to do if you are to get the best results in landscaping your home:

Don't indulge in a great variety of shapes, colors and textures.

Don't conceal attractive brick or stone with too many plants.

Don't cover windows with plants.

Don't have all the plants hugging the foundation.

A. T. Anderson, University of Illinois farm credit specialist lists ten rules for sound and wise use of credit in farming.

1. Use loans only for purposes that will increase income.

2. Limit borrowing for enterprises that you do not fully understand.

To keep debts low, use your loan for purposes that will return the most for every dollar borrowed and in the shortest time.

4. Study price trends, especially on items you plan to buy with borrowed money.

5. Keep debts in line with your net worth.

6. Keep debts in line with your probable income.

7. Select a dependable lender who will give the best terms.

8. Have a definite repayment program.

9. Be businesslike, fair, and frank with your lender.

10. Have adequate insurance for added risks.

According to a study made by the University of Illinois, over 50 percent of the farm land in Cook county needs limestone.

It seems to me that farm people are missing a good bet here, because you can get more return for a dollar invested in lime than any other fertilizing material.

Our county soil testing laboratory tested 8,277 acres of farm land last year on 157 farms.

It is a good idea to test the soil on your farm.

Clean grain is good business. Here are some suggestions to help keep your grain clean.

1. Inspect stored grains for insect infestations brought on by warm weather.

2. Clean, spray and repair bins before harvest to prevent insect, rodent, bird and weather damage from occurring.

3. Follow good weed control practices to help avoid moisture problems at harvest.

4. Reduce rodent and insect populations by employing recommended control practices. Do not limit these activities to the storage area proper, but extend efforts to all sources of infestation.

WOOL PRODUCERS

The Will county ASC office wishes to remind all wool producers that they must file applications for payment on eligible shorn wool or unshorn lambs not later than 30 days after the 1956 marketing year, or by April 30, 1957. Producers who sold shorn wool or unshorn lambs after March 31, 1957, are not eligible for payment under the 1956 program; however, they will be eligible for payment under the 1957 program.

WIN SCIENCE AWARDS

On the week-end, April 5-8 four of Lincoln-Way's science students exhibited their projects at the College of St. Francis Science Fair held on the campus in Joliet.

Bill Hathaway, Terry Barnes, Denny Wheeler, and Don Korsgaard represented Lincoln-Way and Don won the place blue ribbon over some 60 high school exhibits with his "Silver Recovery" project. By use of electrolysis, Korsgaard reclaims silver from used color photographic fixing solution. The operation is done at very low current enabling almost constant operation. For his efforts and first prize, Don was awarded $15 at the St. Francis proceedings.

Lincoln-Way's other exhibits were: Terry Barnes and Bill Hathaway who both displayed cat skeletons. Denny Wheeler exhibited his "Miniature Tornado," a graphic display of the violent effects of tornadoes.

On March 15-16, Lincoln-Way held its own Science Open House at which 167 exhibits were shown. Korsgaard received the outstanding award while Hathaway, Barnes and Wheeler merited first awards.

Advisor H. Neil Hardy is to be commended for his guidance in showing the way to the fine representation of Lincoln-Way in Joliet.

YOUTH DAY

Gov. William G. Stratton has proclaimed Friday, April 26, as "Youth Day in Illinois," calling for thoughtful consideration by Illinois citizens on the problems and accomplishments of the youth of their communities.

The date was selected to coincide with the concluding day of the 26th annual governor's conference on youth and community service, in order to focus attention upon the efforts of men and women from throughout Illinois who will be meeting to discuss the problems of the youth of their communities.

The conference, which opens Thursday, April 26, at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, is presented annually as an educational service by the division of community services of the Illinois Youth Commission.

The Illinois Association of Future Homemakers of America is one of 60 organizations co-operating with the event.

Special "Youth Day" features at the conference will include a youth panel in a sectional meeting Friday morning and buzz sessions conducted by the Chicago Youth Commission Friday afternoon.

Moderator for the youth panel will be Joan Beck, feature writer for the CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and panelists will include seven outstanding young people representing the law-abiding "other 97 per cent" of today's teen-agers, who will describe some unusual service programs and other constructive activities undertaken by their groups.

The petition also includes a section east of the intersection of 77th avenue and 93rd street.

The petitioners are represented by the law firm of Finn, Shee, Canary and Berent of Chicago.

Protest Reds' Imprisonment of Religious Groups

Charging that Soviet officials "may perhaps be found fighters actually against God," a strongly worded letter of protest from officials of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract society, legal governing body of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been sent to Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin of the U.S.S.R.

F. H. Westerveld, presiding minister of the Harvey Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, in announcing the contents of the letter, cited the wholesale arrests and mass movements of Jehovah's Witnesses to slave labor camps in Siberia.

The letter is quoted as saying in part, for many years now, Jehovah's Witnesses within the Soviet Union have endured difficulties and heavy persecution. They have constituted committees and delegations from among their own ministers, for the purpose of registering their religious organization according to the statutes in force, but on each occasion they have been rebuffed and instead of being allowed to register their Christian organization they have had ministers in the delegation arrested."

The letter was written to accompany a composite petition that had been adopted over a period of nine months by a total of 462,936 of Jehovah's Witnesses, meeting in 199 assemblies throughout the world. It called attention to the 7,000 Jehovah's Witnesses known to be in slave camps in the Soviet Union and, requesting their release proposed that a delegation be permitted to proceed from the society's headquarters in Brooklyn, N. Y., to Moscow to fully acquaint the Soviet government with the true aims and purposes of Jehovah's Witnesses.

"We have acted only in good faith," Westerveld continued. "Following the petition's adoption at each assembly, copies were sent by registered mail direct to Moscow and a copy for the Russian Embassy in each country was delivered in person. Most of the ambassadors would not see us, but we were able to talk to some Soviet diplomatic officials. To date, the Soviet government has completely ignored our petitions.

"Furthermore, when a copy was offered to the embassies many of the Russian officials refused to accept it, not even wanting to touch it, as if it were dynamite. Others insisted that many lies had been circulated about Russia and openly scoffed at the mention of the name of Jehovah God and claimed that the law of Russia was higher than the law of Jehovah and that it had to be obeyed in Russia."

A complete report is being published in the "Watchtower" and members of the Harvey congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses plan to circulate in Harvey, Tinley Park, Oak Forest, Markham, Hazel Crest, South Holland and Mokena.

People may doubt what you say, but they'll always believe what you do.

Business and Finance

Maurice P. Angland

"As close as the economy is to its limits of skilled man power, industrial facilities, and certain basic materials, a breathing spell of general stability should be welcome. If business levels off, it does not necessarily follow that it is poised on a crest facing a pronounced downward slope. Plateaus and irregular sideways movements of some length are common in business history."

The above statement appears in a recent report by the First National City Bank of New York City. This report further states, "the ability to offset sharp cuts in such important industries as auto production and home building was convincing testimony of the basic strength of the economy. Latest reports show that a few of the 1956 soft spots have now disappeared others are still with us, and some new ones have developed."

"Granting the obtrusiveness and the existence of soft spots, the best information presently available indicates that basic demand from consumers, business and government is strong enough to maintain high, though not necessarily record breaking, over all levels of output and sales thru the months ahead. Unfilled orders in the manufacturing industries as a whole are holding at the peak, according to the latest figures, although no longer climbing. The flow of new orders is high, although in some lines it has declined. Government expenditures are rising."

The report indicates definitely that 1957 will likely slow over all business being maintained at relatively high levels. The report also indicates that care should be exercised in the selection of investments as all industries are not being equally affected by the present production trends.

In periods such as this, selected Mutual Funds with their professional investment advice, should be attractive. Many of the so-called "blue chips" are now selling on a more attractive price-earnings basis than was the case a year ago.

Commenting on 1958, the magazine U. S. News & World Report, points out that looking ahead you see a period of new gains in business, more prosperity and better living and that 1958 will be one of rising business. Gains now in prospect from the next 10 years show some remarkable figures on the growth of markets for products of industry. Population is expected to cross the 200 million mark in 1967. If rate of gain since World War II is maintained, living standards will rise by about 12 per cent. The magazine points out that a one sixth increase in population plus a 12 percent increase in standard of living, amounts to a 30 per cent gain in the demand for goods and services of all kinds. Consumer demand is a powerful influence on the economy, accounting for almost two thirds of all demand, both public and private.

Business surveys rather generally expect 1958 to be a year of considerable upsurge in business activity. For the investor, it is distinct from the speculator, it would seem that the present offers an excellent opportunity to acquire holdings in some of the best known and most stable industries.

National Tea Sales Up for First Quarter

Continuing the upward trend reported for the fourth quarter last year, National Tea Company's net profit for the first quarter ending March 23, 1957, was 13 per cent ahead of the same quarter a year ago, according to today's announcement by H. V. McNamara, president. Sales likewise showed an improvement.

Net profit for the National Tea Co. for the twelve weeks ending March 23 totaled $1,610,716 after provision for federal taxes of $1,810,000. This compared with profit of $1,425,724 after taxes of $1,640,000 for the twelve weeks ending March 24, 1956.

Earnings for the first twelve weeks of 1957 were equivalent to 76c per share on 2,121,114 common shares outstanding, as compared with 67c per share on 2,120,314 common shares outstanding at the same time a year ago.

National Tea consolidated sales for the first twelve weeks of 1957 totaled $143,361,026, for an increase of $5,467,145 or 3.98 per cent over the first quarter a year ago, when total sales were $137,893,881.

Stores in operation at the close of the first quarter totaled 759, as compared with 749 stores in operation at the end of the first quarter of 1956.

College Grads Can Expect Good Jobs and Pay

College graduates this year can expect good pay and an easy transition from campus to office, say the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine. Smart undergraduates have already been tapped, and the not so smart ones won't have any serious worries.

Engineers lead the pack of the most-wanted men. Need for them is better than a third higher than it was a year ago. Then, in order of demand for them, come salesmen, business trainees, accountants, chemists, production management experts, insurance men and financial trainees.

Altho hundreds of recruitment officials have been beating the campuses looking for male help, they generally wait for the girls to come to them. Jobs where women are wanted include general business trainees, sales-girls, secretaries, engineers, statisticians, chemists and merchandising experts.

The average starting pay for men is $401, compared with $383 per month a year ago. Engineers will get the most, $433 a month. Accountants will average about $389, salesmen $385, general business trainees $382. A master's degree is said to add about another $100 a month to neophyte engineer's pay, a Ph. D. an additional $150 over that. Salaries for girls, job for job, are some what lower than for men.

Graduates in liberal arts are in demand, and that's a surprise. Employers are finding that the well rounded graduate turns out to be a well rounded employee, too, not too specialized and equipped to take on a variety of tasks. Better than one out of three jobs for this year's graduates could be filled by a graduate with no technical or other specialized training.

Marked For Death

A powerful lobby has indicated that in 1957 it will conduct an all-out campaign to enact legislation that would cripple practically all private businesses along our roads. Service stations, motels, restaurants and other businesses that provide necessary services to motorists would be legislated out of existence if this lobby succeeds in getting only government-controlled business along all new roads built with federal funds. Should this attempt fail, the lobby will demand legislation that would severely limit the right of these roadside businesses to promote their services, thereby forcing them out of business. This would eliminate private business and the taxes they pay; then they would be replaced by government-controlled monopolies that cost the public more to patronize and would pay no taxes.

regular salary plus a living allowance. A college degree in accounting or three years work experience as an accountant is the minimum requirement for appointment.

The position of the internal revenue agent is a permanent position with the internal revenue service, with a basic starting pay of $306 per month. Upon successful completion of the six months training period, agents will be assigned to the field offices and will be promoted and given an increase in basic salary to $378 per month. Promotional opportunities after that are based on merit, with the possibility of advancement to positions paying $6400 to $9000 per year, over a period of 2 to 5 years. The position also carries with it benefits of vacation and sick leave, the Civil Service retirement plan and eligibility under the federal life insurance program.

Persons interested may file applications immediately. Applications and further information may be obtained by writing to the Personnel Office, Internal Revenue Service, P.O. Box 1193 Chicago, or contacting M. J. Lawless, group supervisor, Internal revenue service, 201 No. Ottawa st., Joliet. Tel. 3-9393.

When you Attend . . .

You salute Christ and His church.

You come to adore, to worship and praise.

You find yourself surrounded by kindred spirits who are also exposing their souls to God. No radio or television service can thus surround you. In church you are in the "communion of saints."

You experience a feeling of identification with stalwart souls who stood where you are standing.

You testify and witness to the faith that is in you. You increase your faith.

You are in a sanctuary of life, which may be human in organization, but divine in its foundation and purpose.

You testify that "God is the answer." You go to church every Sunday.

Easter Carries Double Meaning, Says Author

By REV. EUGENE BURKE,
Professor and Author
(Paulist Service)

The Resurrection of Jesus tells the Christian that the power to vanquish death and to put on immortality is now held out to him and to all men. Death, which has always stood astride the path of the future—robbing our dreams of fulfillment—is finally conquered.

Yet, Easter cannot be seen only as a victory. It must enter our lives in the same way in which it entered into the history of man—by way of the Cross. The Resurrection of Jesus is the victory—but death on Calvary is the battlefield where victory was won.

How can failure, and suffering, and defeat be the very weapons of victory? What is the meaning of this Christian paradox?

The answer lies in the fact that enters into the life of each of us—the fact of sin. Sin is the force that alone possesses the power to destroy life.

Not only do pride, selfishness, lust, avarice and murder destroy the noblest hopes of man. But these sins cut across the path of life, destroying our relationship with God. And He alone can fulfill our dreams by an everlasting life.

To all the disorder and fury of man separated from God, Christ submitted Himself, willingly and lovingly, for our redemption. And His obedience, even unto death on the Cross, made it possible for man to be freed from the slavery to sin and be taken into the light and kingdom of God. "By dying He has overcome our death; by rising again He has restored our life."

This is the twofold reality that must be found in our lives if they are to be triumphantly Christian. If we do not share in the power of the Cross over sin, we will not share in the glory of Easter.

We do not share in Christ's power and glory simply by believing in it—or by hearing it—or by reading about it. We must LIVE it, by our personal individual acts and choices. Like Christ, we must "do only the things that are pleasing to my Father."

We must live in the conviction that every step of the Christian life, Christ has taken before us, and now takes with us. This is to share personally in the passion of Christ—the one road that leads to our everlasting share in the glorious victory of Easter Sunday.

Easter Brings Home Lesson of Immortality

by The Rev. Paul Sanders
We are rapidly approaching that outstanding day of the christian year known as Easter which commemorates the victory of life over death in the experience of our risen Lord.

There are many great holidays and festive seasons but few have the deep significance of this day. Few of us stop to realize its deeper meaning because we are caught up in so many different aspects of its celebration.

From the beginning of time man has asked the question "What happens when mortal life is ended?" Man, in order to satisfy this mystery of life, has through the ages built up many theories. In the early history of the race it seemed to be the hope that man would carry on as he had on earth; therefore, they buried with him his wife, his hunting weapons and domestic articles that he might want. The Indian's concept of the future life was a happy hunting ground. This viewpoint in one sense was a childlike approach to the answer.

There have been many theories, many solutions but in all of them there was an element of fear or doubt, although all demonstrated a great longing or faith in the continuance of life. Christ brought a new approach to this eternal question. To Him mortal death was not darkness and despair; it was a beautiful going-on of the eternal spirit. When He said, "I go to prepare a place for you that where I am ye may be also," He was giving a great promise to those who believed in Him. When he demonstrated by His faith the victory of life over mortal death, there was a new assurance that brought eternal hope of this great mystery of life.

Christians have interpreted this in many ways and all interpretations have an element of truth in them. If I should give you my interpretation, it might not be yours. However, we can only give that which we believe; therefore, may I express in a few simple words what this great event of Easter means to me in terms of immortal life.

I have often expressed it in this way. There are three great anniversaries in life, first our birth into mortal life, then our marriage, and finally our birth into life eternal which comes as we lay aside our physical body which is the temple of the soul. There is no real beginning or end of life; it is a going on.

Easter... a time of hope and happiness

In the Easter miracle, there is hope and inspiration to lift the heart and reward the spirit. Share the joy of Easter with your family, friends, neighbors... go to church on Easter Sunday.

Poll Finds Majority of Illinois Drivers Favor Set Speed Limit

Nearly complete returns in a state wide public opinion poll show a vast majority of Illinois drivers favor an absolute speed limit on state highways, periodic mechanical inspection of all motor vehicles and at least partial financing for driver education in the high schools.

Licensed Illinois drivers were asked their opinion on a variety of highway safety proposals in a poll conducted by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, a national public service organization comprised of 141 capital stock insurance companies, at the request of the Illinois Traffic Safety Council.

"The results are particularly timely, because several of the proposals receiving strong support are part of Gov. Stratton's highway program now before the state legislature," according to E. H. Westwick of the Association's accident prevention department. Westwick said the poll shows most of the governor's program already endorsed by many traffic safety organizations, will meet with public approval.

More than 3,000 questionnaires, a 30% return, were completed by a representative sampling of business and professional men, office workers, students, tradesmen, farmers and housewives. The questionnaires were distributed thru local insurance agents belonging to Illinois Association of Insurance Agents and Chicago Board of Underwriters.

A heavy majority of those polled, 82%, favored an absolute state speed limit. Only 15% voted against a set limit, while 3% indicated no preference. Most popular limits were 65 miles per hour for day driving, and 55 mph. for night time. These limits got a 70% vote, while lower limits were suggested by 26% of those polled. The remaining 4% either favored higher limits, or indicated no preference.

The poll indicates most drivers favor uniform 45 mile per hour speed limits for heavy vehicles, 78% suggesting this limit for trucks and 72% favoring it for buses.

Legislation requiring mechanical inspection of all Illinois vehicles was favored by 65% of those questioned, and of those favoring inspections 68% thought they should be made twice yearly.

One of the most heavily favored proposals was a requirement that new applicant's for driver's licenses be at least 18 years of age unless they have successfully completed an approved course in driver education, in which case the minimum limit would remain at age 16. This was supported by 86% of those questioned. Some 66% thought the state should provide financial assistance to high schools offering behind the wheel training in driver classes. About half of those favoring financial aid thought the money should be raised thru an increase in the driver license fee, while 46% favored higher fines for traffic violations and 4% suggested an increase in automobile license fees.

There was widespread readiness among those queried to give law enforcement officials more power in handling the drinking driver problem. A law recognizing the validity of chemical tests for intoxication, where a driver is suspected of driving while under the influence of alcohol, was favored by 78%. And 89% of this group thought Illinois law should be such that anyone who accepts a driver license automatically agrees to submit to a chemical test to establish innocence or guilt of driving while intoxicated, or face immediate suspension of the license.

An official driver improvement program, under which motorists frequently involved in traffic accidents and violations would be retrained and re-examined, was approved by 85% of those polled. Of those favoring such a program, about 43% thought it should be administered by the state, while 48% thought it should be a joint responsibility of the state and community. The remainder preferred community administration.

Mr. Westwick described results of the poll as "convincing evidence the majority of Illinois drivers are willing to submit to certain restrictions in order to curtail the shocking toll from auto accidents." He said the large percentage of questionnaires returned, and the heavy vote for more stringent driver controls, shows the public not only is acutely aware of the traffic problem but is ready for resolute methods to solve them.

Tollway Opens Bids on Bridge

(CNS) The Illinois Toll Highway commission last week opened bids for the 4,935 foot bridge, (.935 miles) across the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal near LaGrange (Route 45). This is the longest bridge in the 187 mile project, of which 162.86 miles has been either placed under contract or advertised for bids.

The low bid was $3,231,086 jointly by Peter Kiewit Sons company, Condon Cunningham company, and Paschen Contractors, Inc. of Omaha, Neb. Four other bids ranging up to 131.78 miles under contract. $3,731,376 were submitted.

Running northwest from near Route 45 and 79th Street, the bridge will span the DesPlaines river, the Illinois and Michigan Canal, and the Santa Fe and Gulf, Mobile and Ohio rail roads in addition to the Chicago Sanitary and Ship canal.

Of the 4,935 feet, only 1,756 are to be of steel construction and the balance of pre-cast concrete. The contract for supplying the structural steel was awarded on Sept. 10 to Bethlehem Steel company for $1,561,360.

Design and construction supervision is under Maccabee, Campbell and Associates, and under the general direction of Joseph K. Knoerle and Associates, consulting engineers to the commission.

Will Open Bids On Markham-Midlothian Toll Section May 2

(CNS)—Bids on a 5.01-mile section of the Illinois Toll Highway running from Markham to Midlothian were called for Tuesday, to be opened on May 2.

A total of 9.4 miles for which bids were asked Tuesday brings to 162.86 miles the total on which steps for construction have been taken, including at 159th st., two access ramps at Dixie highway, a toll plaza just north of 167th street.

Seven pre-cast concrete bridges will carry the tollway over Dixie highway, 147th st., and Kedzie ave., while it will be crossed by George Brennan highway, 159th st., 167th st., and change with two access ramps a relocated 170th street.
